Hello Brittan Families,

First of all, I hope that you and your family are doing well and staying healthy. Yesterday the Governor announced that it is doubtful that schools would be reopening this school year. While we hope this is not the case we will be working hard daily to provide distance learning for each and every student. Our hope is that we will be able to return before the end of the year, but we will put the safety of our students, staff, and community first!

We have now been in the distance learning arena for 3 weeks, each week provides more insight on what is working best for our students and families and what can be adjusted. As always, the focus of the teachers, staff, and administration at Brittan School is doing what is best for our students.

Many of you have accessed the online resources available for your child, and many have picked up paper packets of work, either way your support of your child's academic success is appreciated. Remember your children have had excellent instruction from their teacher's for the majority of the year, and have a strong foundation of the skills that will help them to be successful next year. Please know that we understand that everyone's situation is different and what may work for one family may not work for the next, we are doing our best to accommodate everyone.

Your child's teacher is available, so please do not hesitate to reach out and let them know what is or is not working for your child. We understand that during this time of uncertainty, assignments may not get done, that is okay, academic skills and social-emotional health extend far beyond the completion of assigned work.

I encourage you to take this time to connect with your family, teach your child a new skill, go outside for a walk, take a drive around the Buttes, drive by the school and see the new mural of many of the things that make our community so great, read a book, and remember we are all in this together.

Please stay safe, healthy, and engage with us daily!
