Dear Brittan Families,

Governor Newsom announced that school districts within a county that is on the Monitoring List must start school with Distance Learning and may not reopen for in person instruction until the county is off the Monitoring List for at least two weeks.

What does this mean for Brittan School? This current mandate requires us to begin the 2020-2021 school year with Distance Learning. The Brittan staff, administration, and the school board has created a reopening plan which includes all the recommended components for our students to return to in person instruction safely however, with this new mandate from the Governor, that will not be possible at this time. Please know that the safety of Brittan students is our highest priority.

The staff and I will be meeting this week to discuss how we will modify our plan to move forward and continue to provide each student with high quality instruction using Distance Learning. I am confident we will be able to provide some small group in person instruction in our plan during this during this time.

Please know that the Brittan administration will continue to work on a plan to return to school in the "traditional" school setting, while still offering distance learning for those families that feel it is best for them and their children.

Our goal has been and will always be to provide the best education for our students in a caring, and supportive environment. That is what Brittan School does!!!

Stay safe and care for each other.
